An Update from Andrew...

Last Wednesday night, we were excited to welcome Michael, Brooke and Mack Miller to our church family! Michael's business in town is U-Save Auto Rental, and Brooke works as a nurse with St. Thomas Midtown in Nashville. I hope you will introduce yourself if you have not already met them. We had a great day of worship together on Sunday, with many guests. I had a conversation recently with someone who was discussing what it is like to walk into an auditorium for the first time. It can sometimes be intimidating, and we wonder if the place we choose to sit is someone else's "usual seat." It is not a bad thing to have a place where your family usually sits; I know that our family has a pew you can find us just about every Sunday. Yet I hope all of us realize it is much more important to make a guest feel welcome than it is to sit in our "usual seat." Let's keep our focus on welcoming guests and introducing them to Jesus!

On Monday night, our Fellowship Hall was transformed into the set of The Price is Right for our Golden Age Banquet. There were prizes, a plinko Board, a wheel to spin, and even the showcase showdown! Although I think some of our teens had to be introduced to the Price is Right for the first time in order for them to decorate and lead the evening, they did an excellent job. They decorated during the day, served throughout the meal, and they even stayed afterward to clean up the Fellowship Hall. Jon David Schwartz and Katie Williams coordinated their efforts, and Amy Schwartz helped the teens fill the plates and deliver the food. It was encouraging to see all of them combine their talents in order to make that night happen. Congratulations to Wendell Robinson, who won the showcase showdown!

On Sunday, Noel Whitlock will be with us, and I am looking forward to it. He will preach Sunday morning, and then he will teach a combined adult Bible class in the auditorium. After class, we will enjoy a potluck meal together, so bring some food and plan on eating with us. Once our meal has concluded, we will have our evening devotional together in the Fellowship Hall. Why not invite some friends to join us on that Sunday. You will be blessed and encouraged by Noel's preaching.

We are also preparing for our annual preaching workshop here at Graymere. Almost 60 have signed up to be with us at some point on Monday, and we have several staying for our extra day on Tuesday, where Kirk Brothers will be speaking. When you think about all the ministers who will be present and the congregations where they serve, we have a neat opportunity to bless congregations all over with this workshop. Thank you for being a church family that supports efforts like this one. Let's keep learning and growing together!
