

An Update from Andrew...

An Update from Andrew...

On Sunday, we had the privilege of worshipping together, which is always uplifting. But we also had a time of grieving together on Sunday afternoon as we remembered the life of Peggy Rector. Her passing from this life was sudden, and we need to continue remembering her family in our prayers. We were reminded on Sunday of the many hours of work she put in to ministering to others on an individual basis and on a congregational basis. God has blessed us with a church family to walk through times like this together.

This month will be a busy one for all of us, and our family's schedule will be busy as well. I will be out of town for a couple of days this week, which is why I will not be here on Wednesday. Since the summer of 2016, I have been taking classes for a PhD program in Communication through Regent University in Virginia Beach, VA. The advantage of the program is that I only have to be on campus one time a year. On Wednesday morning, I will be taking my oral comprehensive exams in Virginia. Later this month, Kathryn and I will be joining 38 others for a ten-day trip to Israel from March 17-27. Of course, we are keeping an eye on world events as we prepare, but we are looking forward to the trip. Jon Winchester and Chad Landman will be preaching on March 22, while we are gone.

Shortly after that trip, several from Graymere will be leaving for the Arizona mission trip. Many Graymere members, as well as Salt River Church of Christ members, will travel from Phoenix to a Native American Reservation in order to preach and do outreach among the people there. This is a landmark event in the life of the Salt River congregation because that church family is now mature enough to send out members on a mission trip to help other congregations.

You may notice that we have brochures available now for Future Ministers Camp, which will be from May 24-27. This will be a different format than previous years, and our goal is to leave a large gap between FMC and Maury Christian Camp, so that we can allow more adults and teens to attend both. We are working to have on-line sign-ups for camp this year, and I am hoping that many of our own young men will be part of it. If you know of a young man, age 12 or older, who is interested in participating in a camp like this one, feel free to give them one of our brochures.

Next week, we will be hosting the Graymere Youth Ministry Retreat, an opportunity for several youth ministers to recharge and renew their passion for ministering to young people. It is a valuable event, and it will be a blessing to many. Let's keep learning and growing together!
